Sight Words

Sight words are words that you see again and again when you read. This book is filled with the sight words this, is, too, and for. Look for them in the text. Check the pictures, too!

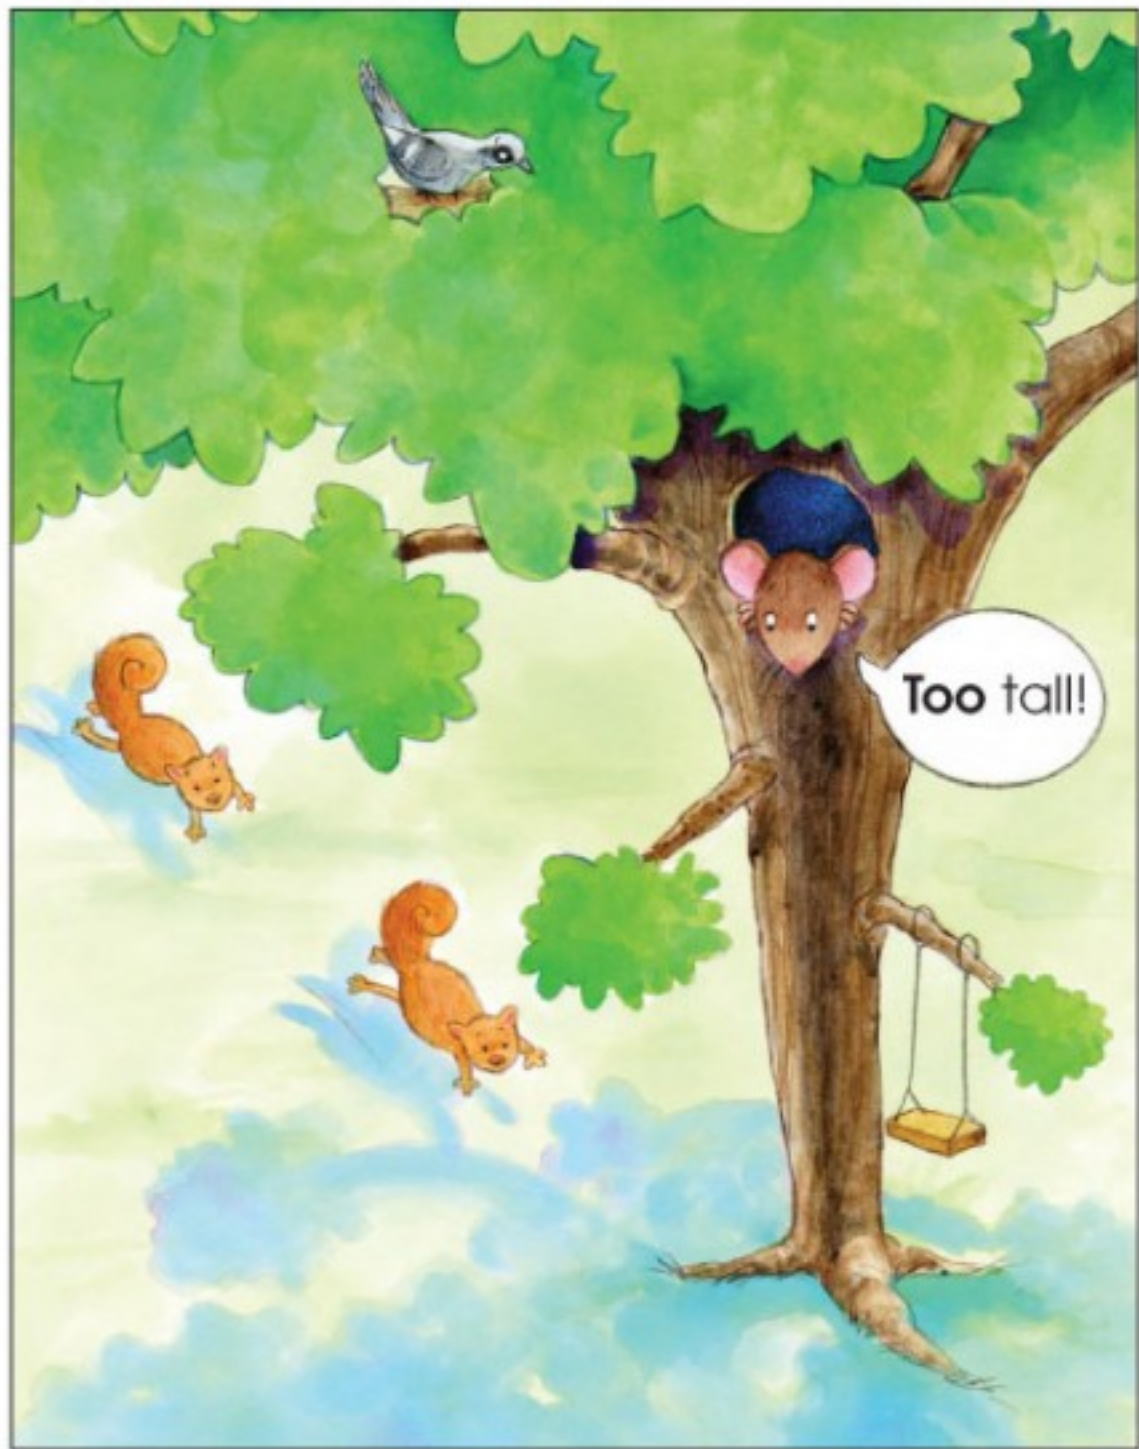

Mouse needs a house.
This house is too big for Mouse.

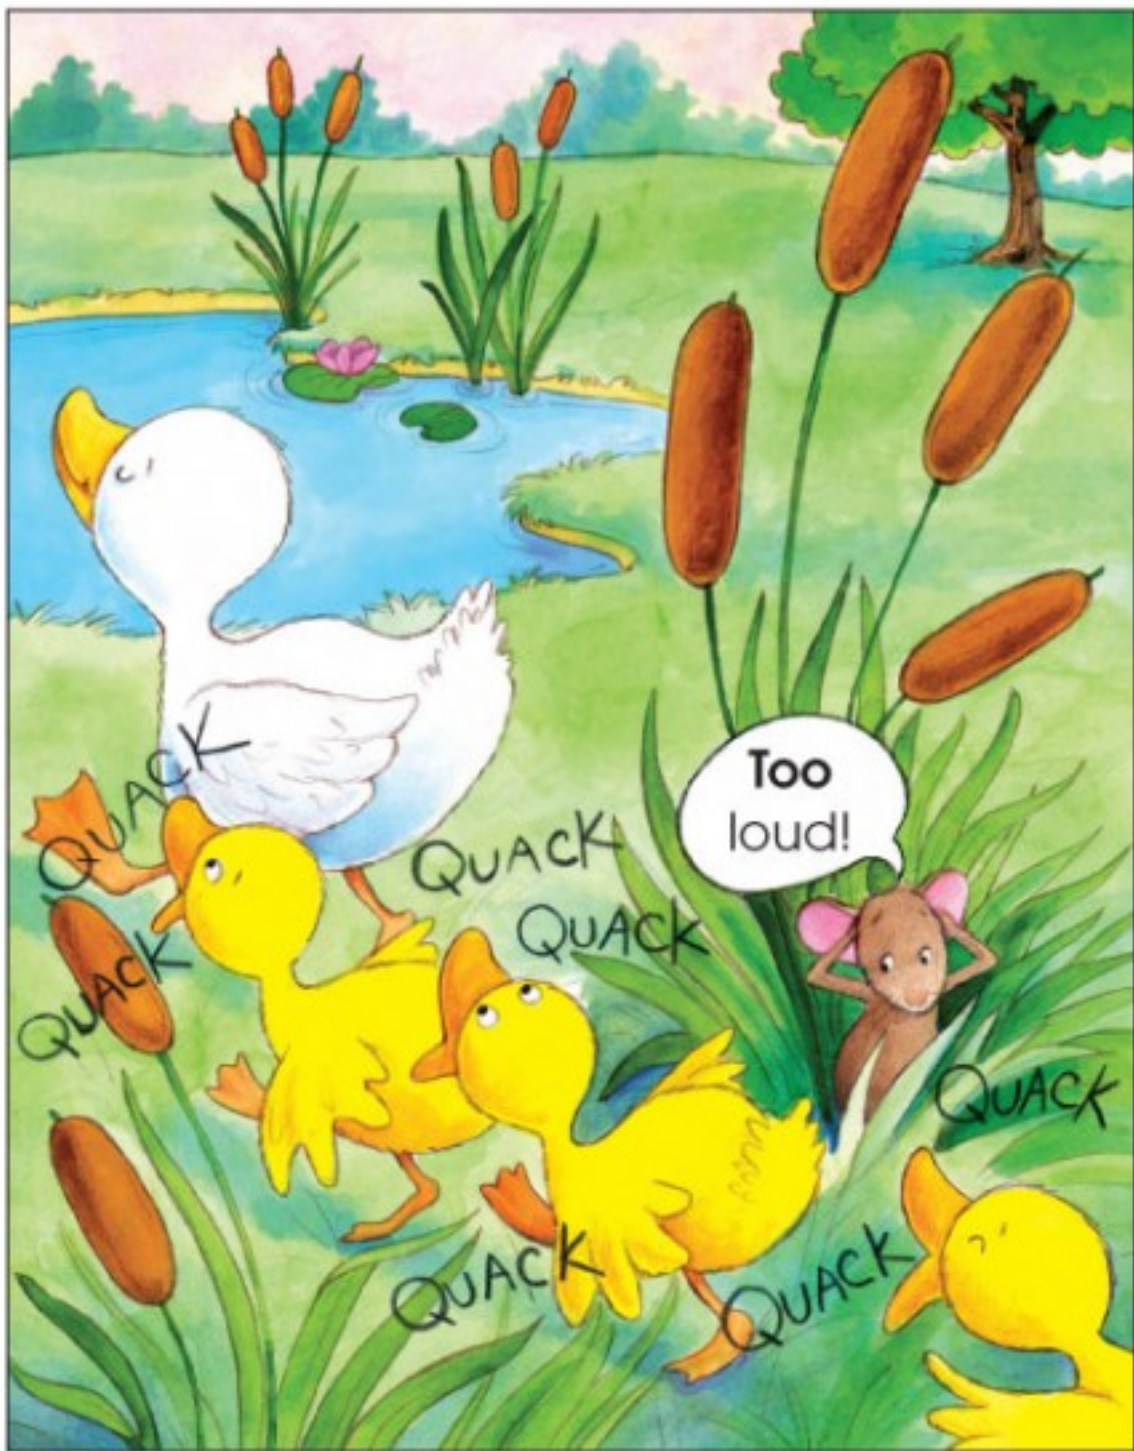

This house is too small.

This house is too round for Mouse.

This house is too tall.

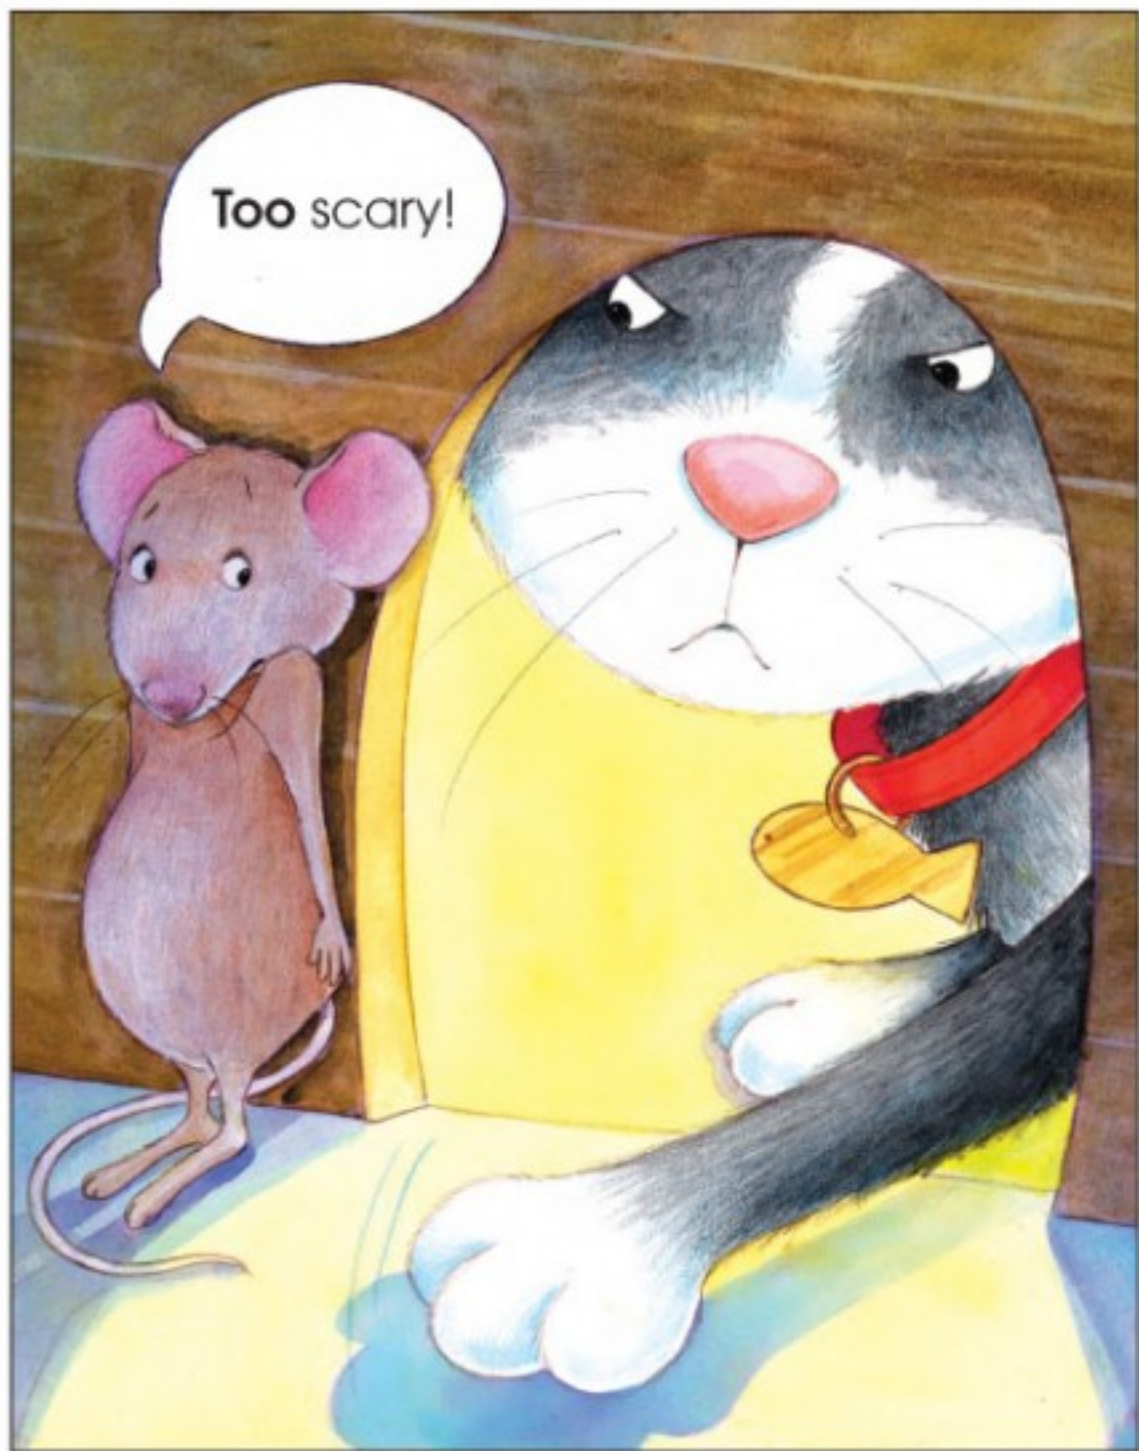

This house is too loud for Mouse.

This house is too hairy.

This house is too hot for Mouse.

Too scary!

This house is too scary.

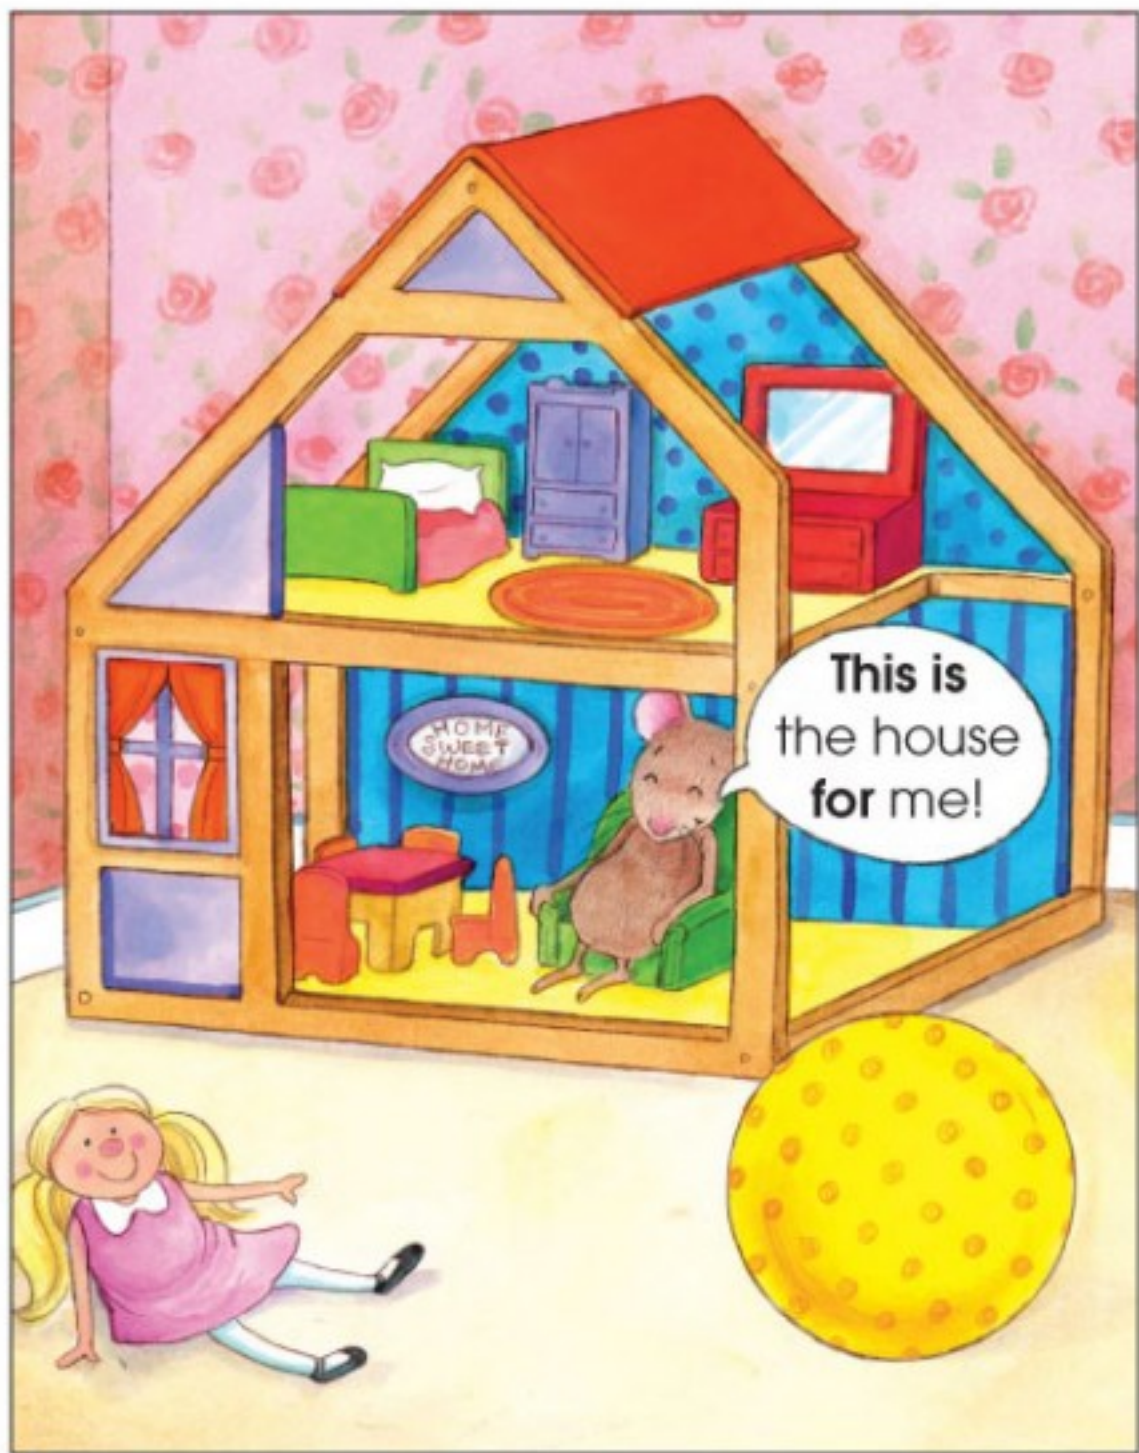

This house is too cold for Mouse.

This house is too bright.

This house is too wet for Mouse.

This house is just right!

Celebrate the four new sight words you learned by saying these short cheers.

T-h-i-s! Give a yell!
What do these four letters spell?
A sight word that we all know well —
This, this, this!

I-s! Give a yell!
What do these two letters spell?
A sight word that we all know well —
Is, is, is!

T-o-o! Give a yell!
What do these three letters spell?
A sight word that we all know well —
Too, too, too!

F-o-r! Give a yell!
What do these three letters spell?
A sight word that we all know well —
For, for, for!
